Time Recording

Etarmis Online – Online Time Recording

Computers and Networks have come a long way since we started supplying time recording systems 40 years ago.

Many organisations now have Networks that are accessible from different offices around the country. Corporate Intranets and email systems have provided the medium to share and access that information.

Etarmis Online and Etarmis Online Manager provide access to the Etarmis system via a web browser.

The key features of the Etarmis system can now be accessed via your PC's web browser. Staff can access their own time recording details (such as bookings and absences) without the need to contact the system administrator. Staff are unable to make their own adjustments but can make requests to the administrators for adjustments.

Etarmis Online Manager

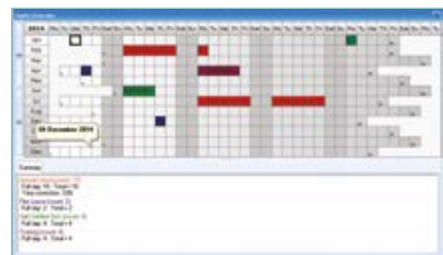

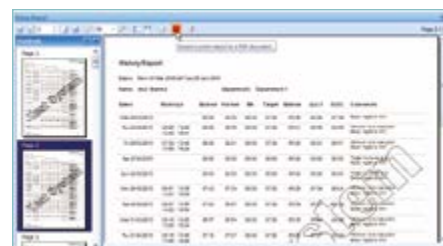

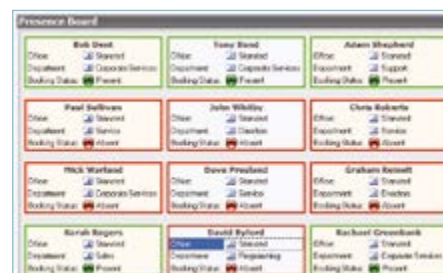

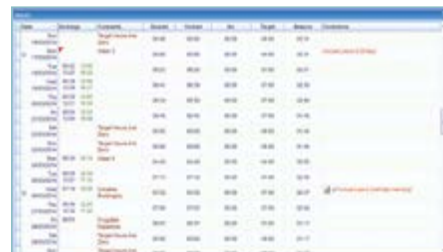

Etarmis Online Manager allows administrators and managers the facility to access the time recording information of entire groups of employees via the internet or intranet.

- Access employee history
- Perform time and absence adjustments
- View graphical displays of absence levels
- Authorise or deny any requests made by staff

Both these modules are supplied as a standard design, but can be tailored to integrate with the look and feel of your Intranet.
