

Access Control

One card, one clock, one system.

Enhanced Flexitime management with integrated access control

Balancing complete security with flexible access is a major challenge for today's business organisations. To meet the growing challenges of agile workforces, access control systems must combine rock-solid security with ease of access to accommodate all the permutations associated with flexible working.

To address this the Etarmis hfx's flexible workforce solution can be enhanced with a full-featured, sophisticated access control option that combines to create the most complete solution available on the market. It provides the highest level of security for businesses while logging access data via the same card that staff use to record their working hours.

FEATURES

- Easy to use, one-card, one clock, one system solution
- A standalone system which can be networked and/or combined with Time & Attendance applications
- Fully integrated Flexitime and Access Control system
- Multi-site, multi-tenant administration
- Highly configurable, manages access times for specified staff
- Door zoning, timed access, days of the week access
- Audit trail for enhanced security including PSN
- Fully scalable to grow with your organisation
- Easy integration independent from existing infrastructure

BENEFITS

- Provides total site security, both internally and externally
- Ideal for organisations needing easy to use, secure access control
- Seamlessly integrates into HR, Payroll, Finance and Time & Attendance recording
- Enhances HR and workforce management system performance through provision of additional layers of data

"A recent Public Secure Network audit demonstrated where we need to take control of physical and IT security. We can now merge this with our working practices using the hfx system and have developed a model that can be adopted anywhere that needs to manage a high security environment."

Joe Gallacher, Senior Admin Officer at Renfrewshire VJB

The Etarmis Access Control system is sophisticated and highly configurable, allowing multiple levels of access for specified staff, with door zoning, timed access and days of the week access across multiple sites.

This easy to use yet powerful one-card solution, provides a full access audit trail, for complete transparency, accountability and enhanced security.

Simple to install, Etarmis can integrate with existing systems or operate as a standalone solution without impacting on an organisation's existing infrastructure.
